John F. Fish

John F. Fish is the Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Suffolk Construction Company, Inc. He is responsible for providing the vision and strategic direction of the company, maintaining and reinforcing the corporate culture, leading the national executive and management teams, and overseeing decisions regarding the organization's capital expenditures. Under Mr. Fish's leadership, Suffolk has grown into one of the most successful privately-held general building contractors in the country. With $1.7 billion in annual revenue, Suffolk is currently ranked #29 in the nation by Engineering News Record, and is largest builder in New England.

In addition to leading Suffolk, Mr. Fish also serves on a number of Boards committed to the business agendas of the City of Boston and the State of Massachusetts. He is on the Board of Directors for the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston. He currently chairs the Massachusetts Competitive Partnership, and in March of this year was selected as a delegate by Governor Deval Patrick for the Massachusetts-Israel Innovation Economy Partnership Mission. Mr. Fish also was recently appointed to the Economic Development Planning Council for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Mr. Fish has also served on many boards and executive committees to support important community, environmental, and social organizations. These include the Boys & Girls Clubs of Boston, Jobs for Mass, Private Industry Council, The Boston Green Ribbon Commission, Salvation Army, Catholic Schools Foundation and Boston Symphony Orchestra. He is a member of the National Business Roundtable, Urban Land Institute and The Business-Higher Education Forum. Mr. Fish also is currently Vice Chairman of the Board of Trustees of Boston College, the first non-alumnus to serve in that role. He is also a Trustee of Tabor Academy.

As Chairman of the Red & Blue Foundation, Suffolk's non-profit initiative, Mr. Fish has supported numerous philanthropic endeavors. He also provides the vision, support and day-to-day leadership behind the Boston Scholar Athlete Program which currently reaches 4,000 high school student-athletes in 18 Boston Public Schools. Additionally, Mr. Fish was named the 2011 National Association of Corporate Directors Non-Profit Director of the Year.

As a result of his community leadership and involvement, he has received 2011 "Most Admired CEO" and the 2011 "Power 50" Most Influential Bostonians from the Boston Business Journal, the "New Englander of the Year Award" from the New England Council and a special Public Service Award from the National Association of Industrial and Office Properties (NAIOP) recognizing his civic accomplishments. He also received the Lewis Family Foundation "CEO Social Leadership Award" for his commitment to inner city children, and the Anti-Defamation League's "Torch of Liberty" award for his efforts in raising awareness around discrimination. He has been the recipient of the Tabor Academy "2008 Distinguished Service Award" for his generosity to the school's campus and students. Mr. Fish has also been recognized for his work on national organizations such as the Anti-Defamation League (ADL), Initiative for a Competitive Inner City (ICIC) and National Conference for Community and Justice (NCCJ).

Mr. Fish is a graduate of Bowdoin College in Brunswick, Maine with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science. He received an Honorary Doctor of Engineering Technology degree from Wentworth Institute of Technology.
