STEP 3: READ SIGN & DATE ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS

Upon completing full day QIV Certification training, trained technicians will be assigned a Tech ID. This enables them to perform QIV testing. To maintain QIV certification, a trained tech is required to perform a minimum of 5 passing and qualifying QIV tests by 7/31/15, or within 60 days from their training date. Failure to comply with the minimum testing requirements will result in suspension of their Tech ID, and additional training will be required in 2016. A minimum of 5 QIVs must be reported annually in order to maintain their certification and avoid additional training.

Attending QIV training is the first step toward being eligible to offer 0% HEAT Loan financing on Ducted AC/HP equipment. Next, at least one trained technician from your company must perform 5 passing QIVs, and then you are eligible to apply for web listing as a COOL SMART QIV Trained Contractor. Until your company is listed on the website, you are not authorized to offer 0% HEAT Loan financing on Ducted AC/HP equipment.

Manager or Principal; by signing below, you are acknowledging the above participation requirements.
